Lois Schneider Realtor Welcomes A New Associate

Lois Schneider Realtor announces the addition of a new sales associate to their current team of professionals located on the main thoroughfare of Springfield Avenue in downtown Summit.

Jill Bray graduated from The University of Manitoba and went on to receive her Masters in Business Administration with a major in Finance from the University of South Florida. Jill comes to Lois Schneider Realtor with an extensive real estate background having worked for a residential real estate developer and as a Relationship Manager in real estate corporate banking. After leaving the corporate world, Jill spent the past several years constructing a new home and restoring two others. After relocating a total of seven times, including two international relocations, Jill and her family have been happily settled in Summit for the past ten years.

With three children who have progressed through local pre-schools, elementary and middle schools, Jill is actively committed to several volunteer positions both in the community and with the schools. This valuable knowledge for families, coupled with her business expertise and her proven ability to manage several projects at once, makes Lois Schneider Realtor proud to welcome Jill Bray.
